About this release:

Rush Hour make the French Connection with this release from Parisian producer, Art Bleek. Having released more jazz orientated releases on various labels - these are his first techno outings and we are very pleased to be presenting them to you on this strong 12". Antichambre builds up slowly before swinging into a cool house groover reminiscent of the old Herbert sound but with a very fresh production edge. Damaged Language System enters deeper realms but stay's playful, soulful and firmly on the right side of minimal!

Good early reactions, more to come we are sure.....!
