In 2004 the Australian turntablist and producer Dizz1 a.k.a. Dave Norris was on tour when a serious accident occurred. An unfortunate series of events caused Dizz1 to partially shatter his neck, causing him to become paralyzed from the neck down. A miracle doctor fixed his bone structure and spinal cord which, above all expectations, ended the paralyse. Long story short the lucky buggler got his feel back ! Luck was definitely on his side since a couple of years before he also managed to survived from a serious car crash.

Fast-forward to today, after some time of rehabilitation in the studio (where else?) Dizz1 entered the 3rd round and came up with a batch of serious bangers. He was invited for the Red Bull Music Academy where he met up with Om'mas Keith from Sa-Ra. The result was the early 2009 underground hit 'Go Ridin', which will probably feature on his full album, somewhere in 2010.

'3rd Time Lucky' is already the 8th establishment on the Nod Navigators imprint serving you with a nicely cooked up 5-track bass crossover for instant dance-floor mayhem. Containing: 'Frazzled' a Turkish delight turned into a one-eyed monster. 'Walkon' delivering you the O.S.T. to that one returning dream of being captured in a crystal made mace. 'Somewhat?' and 'Here We Go Again' are the low slung additions on which pacman practices his hip moves and street fighter 2 becomes reality to hit you in the face with a sonic boom. Finally 'Rirrr' dj favorite and secret weapon is to Dizz1's sayings "my halftime version of "Your The Voice" by John Farnham with the Wiggles band accompaniment playing Dorothy the dinosaur at the same time. (John walked off stage after the first bar...)".

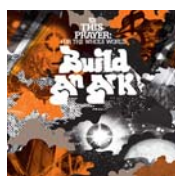

Already supported by Benji B and Mary Ann Hobbs and big-ups from the likes of Mark Pritchard a.k.a. Harmonic 313 !

Nod Navigators is a Kindred Spirits offshoot.
